

MOTOR SHARES GO LIMIT; INDUSTRIALS ALSO SOAR

Unfavorable Reports Regarding British Loan Fail to Weaken War Stocks.

WESTINGHOUSE IS ADVANCED

Bethlehem Steel Rises 12 Points to New High Record of 357—Daring Traders and Operators Have Rare Opportunity.

BY BROADAN WALL.

NEW YORK, September 21.—Industrial shares motored to new high ground again today. Motor shares exceeded the speed limits with General Motors common the leader, at one time showing a gain of fifty-four points.

Reports that the British loan negotiations were not progressing as favorably as expected and that Kuhn Loeb & Co. would not participate failed to weaken the war stocks, which touched new tops. Railroad shares did not participate in the general upward movement, and conservative brokers said they saw evidence of a market selling in other departments of the market. Gold prices showed strength. Motor shares were taken in hand immediately after the beginning of trading and hit the new high prices.

The automobile dealers were featured with a sharp advance in Westinghouse Electric.

MOTOR SHARES PROVE SOURCE OF WONDER

Bethlehem Steel rose twelve points to the new high of 357 Crucible Steel, 100,000 shares, was up 12 points. Bethlehem is consolidated with the Bethlehem or enter into a working agreement which is expected to be the equivalent of what the 12 points the past. The higher the share price, the nearer the heating supply becomes, according to brokers.

Aside from this new high for Bethlehem, the activity of the motor shares was the center of attraction and wonder. General Motors' sensational advance was accompanied by sharp upward movement in Willys-Overland, which touched a new high. Maxwell Motors and Studebaker, General Motors at its high figure was nearly 100 points above the figure of 257 reached last week. At one time Studebaker showed a gain of four points, but it was lost in the late trading. Willys-Overland rose twelve, but lost five before the close. Maxwell Motors, whom no one had heard of first preferred, was also in good demand on reports that directors are whipping plans into shape for taking care of the back door, and perhaps scrip.

DARING TRADERS HAVE SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY

For daring traders and operators who have never sufficient to acquire big lines of stock the present market affords many opportunities, according to a man who had a fortune in Wall Street and still has it. The recent flare up in Great Northern Ore Certificates confirms this, for it was learned yesterday that a certain man picked out Great Northern Ore Certificates for his field of operation and began buying all in sight until he had taken on a large line of stock. The steady accumulation had attracted attention and stimulated inquiry. Just as this man began to wonder whether the public would come in one story of combination of the company with the Colorado Fuel and another, the reported consolidated war stock companies would purchase their own from the Great Northern were circulated. A right Great Northern Ore Certificates followed, and the stock was put out fast as possible. One block of 2,200 shares going at forty-eight on Saturday.

Leather stocks gave a good account of themselves.

NEW YORK, September 21.—Half a score of leather exchanges were over to the market, while stocks mentioned as investment securities were idle or relatively. The specialties were perfectly divided between the market. Metal stocks led all others both as to activity and extent of gains in shares of companies mainly in supplies and shares of concerns manufacturing machinery and electrical equipment. To these may be added the sugar stocks and several other issues, a result of the war. United States Steel was the only old time favorite to keep pace with the market, and the market was up 12 points, while the market was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts cotton stocks, however, were generally up, spot accounts, an increased tendency toward short-crop estimates and unfounded rumors that the market was in the cotton belt were the superficial reasons for the advance. Gossip said that prominent traders had formed a pool to put prices higher.

Reports of a strike in October, 1916, between miners and the coal companies were referred to as a factor in the market's rise.

NEW YORK, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

There was a steady advance into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912 for middlings, while May position was put to 1200, thus fulfilling predictions of experts.

CHICAGO, September 21.—A still advance featured the cotton market today, prices standing 30 to 40 points up at their highest. The close was steady at a net gain of 12 points. The market moved into new high ground for the season on both spots and futures. Spots were quoted 30 points higher in 1912